MYSORE STATE

FOREWORD

The New State of Mysore was formed on the re-organisation of States on 1st November 1956. The State comprises the former State of Mysore, the former State of Coorg and some areas of former Bombay, Madras and Hyderabad States.

As the new State comprises areas which formerly constituted or formed parts of the several States as were existing prior to the re-organisation of States information regarding the correct names of all the villages arranged by Taluks and Districts was not available in any one place.

Such information is required for reference for several purposes by the members of the Public and the Departments of Government. Action was initiated some time ago to compile a comprehensive list of villages. This Work has now been completed and the list has been compiled and published. It is trusted that this would prove to be a useful compilation for reference.

M. V. KRISHNAPPA,
Minister for Revenue.
